

From: [REDACTED] CPT USARMY [REDACTED]

Sent: Wednesday, March 2, 2022 1:44 PM

To: [REDACTED] CSM USARMY [REDACTED]

Subject: RE: IBT: [REDACTED]

Thanks CSM,

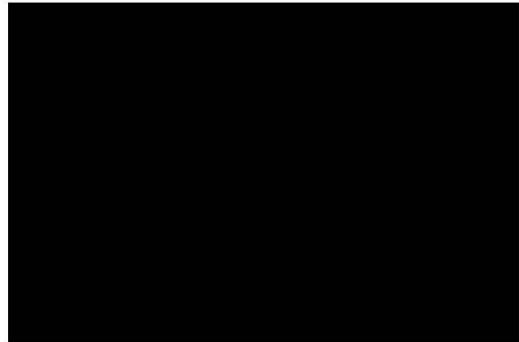

I agree, keeping her away from the company until then may help mitigate. I will talk to [REDACTED] and offer that up. I think my biggest concern right now is more fuel on the fire that is already burning, especially with the IO here.

I will keep trying to assuage any bereavement the Soldiers are having with this for the next few weeks.

V/R,

[REDACTED]
CPT, [REDACTED]

Commander

-----Original Message-----

From: [REDACTED] CSM USARMY [REDACTED]

Sent: Wednesday, March 2, 2022 1:37 PM

To: [REDACTED] CPT USARMY [REDACTED]

Subject: RE: IBT: [REDACTED]

Sir,

She has surgery schedule this month and I wanted her there before she starts con leave; otherwise, I would have waited.

Mitigated by [REDACTED] assigning her PSG duties until 1SG leaves and his CoR date. Her presence is reduced at the Co and 1SG will be gone on [REDACTED]

If needed, you can reprieve her of any formations etc to further reduce presence until the CoR date.

Thoughts?

CSM [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

-----Original Message-----

From: [REDACTED] CPT USARMY [REDACTED]

Sent: Tuesday, March 1, 2022 5:40 PM

To: [REDACTED] CSM USARMY [REDACTED]

Subject: RE: IBT: [REDACTED]

CSM,

Just wanted to get your input on this and the reasoning. I have had multiple people complain to me about the appearance of this while 1SG is still in the seat and it kind of blindsided me.

V/R,

[REDACTED]
CPT, [REDACTED]

Commander

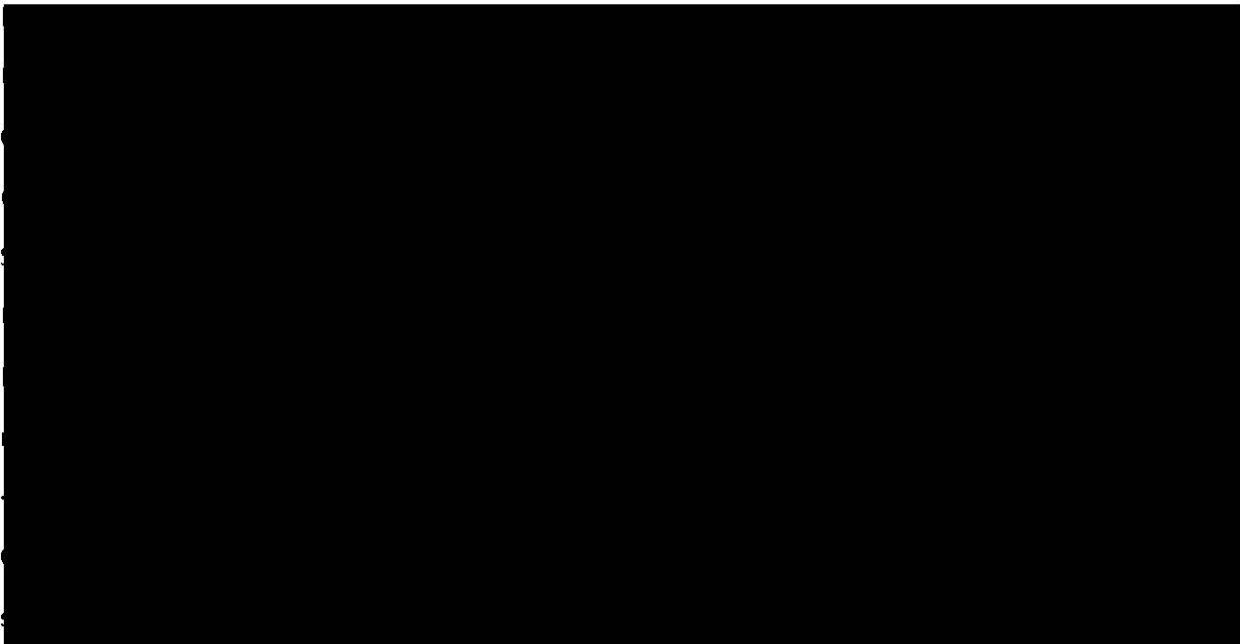

[REDACTED]

-Original Message----

From: [REDACTED] SSG USARMY [REDACTED]

Sent: Thursday, February 24, 2022 12:36 AM

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: IBT: [REDACTED]

Good morning,

For your records.

V/r,

SSG, USA

Battalion S-1 NCOIC

